I was told in this picture I look older than my age.

My career path

10 years experience

I studied at a grammar school even if I would have preferred a commercial school. Then I choose law but again I think literature would have been a better choice, in fact I didn't confer a degree.

I learnt my English in Ireland, I was 22 when I became interested by multimedia.

I attended the SAE Institute in multimedia, a funny year, then I started to work for Sailing Online.

After three months internship, I really started to work as a designer. And I worked with the company for one year.

We were the creative team of P&S (Perego&Solera) a good company for ADV and Public Relation in Milan with a number of well known brand names among their clients.

But it was impossible for them to expand: it was a bad moment for small companies. Then I moved to P&S working with Vincenzo Rossi, a really good creative director but he had no experience with web technology. He is still a great "master".

Then i moved to a part time job in DodiciTrenta, a web agency in Milan. A young team, and a really good creative director: Massimiliano Chiesa, 6 or 7 months and i returned to P&S. I couldn't make the jump, I needed just one employer.

Two more years and Rodolfo Solera decided to join Twister Communication Group. One year there. But I needed to try something different. I went back to Ireland, the economy was still growing, my targets were: open my eyes and try to work abroad.

After a month I found a job in 4PM, web agency in Dublin. A great experience. I will miss them all. I said one year and one year it was.

Back to Italy I still wasn't ready for the italian "environment", I worked for a couple of months in Latinoamericando Group, then I was chosen for the graphic support in Intermed, a medical company in San Giuliano Milanese.

In 2010 I'm still working for Intermed but I started a collaboration in UI and Digital Signage with the ATS group.
